

PROJECT STR001:

Alphabet for Wartime

We've been working on this series of images, on and off, in the years since this last war began, in 2003. Like a lot of other folks, we felt sad and powerless. So we began to make an image alphabet, from A to Z, that captured the sense of the moment. These were imagined as one part guerilla graphic, one part Victorian bestiary.

We've included five in this pdf, for you to choose from. These are public. You can scale them, change them, or do what you like. If you like any of them, drop us a line and give us your thoughts: hello@strangelets.sg.

To transfer to a t-shirt, buy yourself a pack of those t-shirt iron-on sheets from HP, Epson, or equivalent. Get a decent t-shirt, and get ironin'. If you're not shy, send us a pic of yourself wearing it so that we can see.

Enjoy.

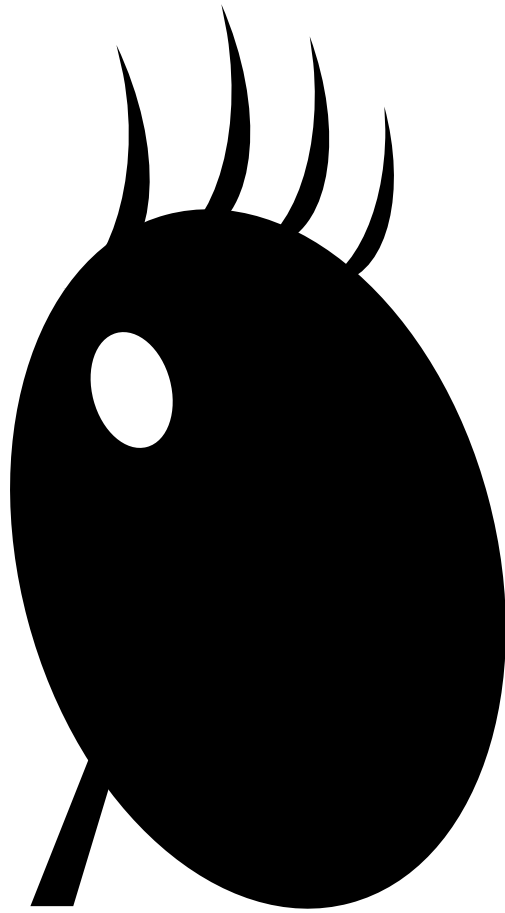

Build an ark

Homo sucre

Represent

State

Traife